Epworth Home Missionary Society Holds a Pleasant Meeting With Mrs. D. L. Justice.

The Woman's Home missionary society of Epworth M. E. church held an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. D. L. Justice, of Mt. Vernon avenue, Thursday afternoon. The attendance was quite large.

A short business session was held and arrangements made for holding a thank offering service at the church on Sunday morning, January 9th. Mrs. Daniel Stecker, of Spencer, will be present and deliver an address.

A program of much interest was rendered. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. B. Leavena. Mrs. Henry Ruhl read an interesting paper, "The Shadow Side of Christmas." Mrs. J. W. Freeland read a pretty little original poem entitled, "The Silent Partner." The society president, Mrs. W. B. Everett, gave a thorough review of the year's work, disclosing that the organization has accomplished a great deal in the missionary field. The program concluded with a song.

The next meeting will be held in one month at the home of Mrs. J. H. Clark, of South High street.

POWELL CABINET HOLDS MEETING

No Action Taken Relative to the Resignation of Fred Hochstetter.

A quarterly meeting of the cabinet of the Powell Sunday School class of Epworth M. E. church was held in the pastor's study at the church, Thursday evening. The attendance was fair, and much business was given attention. No action was taken relative to the resignation of Fred Hochstetter who has been president of the class for fourteen years and he is desirous of retiring. His work has been of such a high order, however, that the members of the class have refused to accept his resignation. Various members of the class will act in the capacity of teacher until a regular teacher may be chosen succeeding R. J. Pennell, who has also resigned. At a future meeting, action will be taken and new officers will be chosen.

The reports made at the meeting of the cabinet last evening showed the work of the class during the past year to have been remarkable. It was shown that 1100 visits to the sick of the city regardless of church denomination, were made during this time. The members of the class expect to advance and do a greater work than ever during the coming year.

J. H. WEAVER IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Former Sheriff Succumbs to Paralysis.

Funeral Services Will be Held From the Late House on High Street Saturday Afternoon.

The death of J. H. Weaver, aged seventy-three years, occurred at the home, South High street Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. Paralysis is assigned as the cause of demise.

The deceased was born in Lebanon, Pennsylvania. He came to this city more than forty years ago and after a ten years residence during which time he was active in politics, he was elected to the office of county sheriff on the Democratic ticket. In this capacity he served two terms, being noted as an officer of high honor and unusual efficiency. He also served one councilman and in this office did much for the advancement of the city along the lines of public improvement. He has always been an ardent Democrat and to the last his interest in the party, its principles and its welfare was unabated. He was a member of the Lutheran church in the town of his birth. The widow and three children, M. H. Weaver, Mrs. Elizabeth Dutt and Mrs. M. C. Cramer, all of this city survive.

Funeral services will occur from the house Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Interment in Marion cemetery.

Mrs. Bishop's Statement.

"The Marion Daily Mirror:
"In your daily of the date of November 27, 1909, publication was made of some matters pertaining to me personally, of which I now would like to answer.
"The fact that there is some estrangement between my husband and myself should in no way involve my moral character or invoke any criticism of it by anyone who does not know personally my reputation or character.
"I want to emphatically deny that I am now or ever have been connected with any medicine show. The facts in the case are these, that I have been employed by E. C. DeWitt & Company, of Chicago, Illinois, and together with some three other ladies are engaged in the distribution of sample medicine in various towns throughout Ohio, that I earn about $15.00 per week, and the most of that is sent home to my sister in Marion for the benefit of my children. The further statement in your paper of that date that Mr. Bishop had sent me $80.00, which I appropriated to my individual use, is wholly false and untrue. I never received it.
"I am perfectly willing that my conduct be observed, scrutinized and commented on if need be, but I wish the truth of it to be published.
"Thanking you for the space in which to make this reply,
"I am,
"MRS. STELLA BISHOP."

MAYOR FIRM AS ADAMANT

Will Not Name Appointees 'Till Tomorrow

PROMISES SOME SURPRISES

Declares Appointees do not Know.

Safety Board Holds Its Last Meeting. The Members Making Short Talks and Recalling the Pleasant Side of the Official Life.

That Dr. J. G. Seiter, who will be mayor of the city after 12 o'clock tonight, intends to keep his word that he would not mention any of his appointees until Saturday morning, was fully demonstrated when a Mirror reporter interviewed him Friday morning.

"I said in the start that I would not make known my appointees until the proper time, and I intend to stick to it," declared the doctor after the reporter had fired a series of queries at him. "I have a good reason for keeping the matter a secret, and you will readily see my object when it is explained tomorrow," he continued.

At 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, Dr. Seiter will announce to the public his appointments and will outline his policy. There will be no red tape about it. The doctor says that he has decided upon all of the appointments and will be ready tomorrow to read them off. There will be no delay and the appointees will be sworn in at once. The mayor-elect declares that not even the appointees themselves know of his intended action.

When asked if he intended to continue practicing medicine the doctor replied, "Why of course I do. I will retain my office right here and will give the same attention as heretofore, to my profession. All of this year's business will be transacted at the city hall and I do not intend to convert my private office into a police court," he continued.

The last meeting of the board of public safety was held at the city clerk's office this morning at 10 o'clock. There was a touch of sadness to the session. Many pleasant reminiscences were reviewed and the members parted with a hearty hand shake best wishes for a happy and successful new year.

The purpose of the session was to clear up the business for the old year. The salary lists of the police and fire department were allowed, and such other business that was necessary to transact at this time. Mayor Scherff happened in on the meeting and delivered a clever farewell speech. All of the members were called upon and a series of speeches resulted.

SOCIETY

There was a pleasurable session of the C. L. P. club with Mrs. Edward Moore, of South Prospect street, Thursday afternoon.

Yuletide greens and bells adorned the parlors where needlework was an interesting diversion the first hour. A delicious spread was laid at half after four o'clock. After-luncheon hours were given to original contests planned by the hostess. In a guessing game, Mrs. Fred Shirley won first award and in an apple content Mrs. Samuel Flock was the winner of a pretty trophy. Miss Gertrude Hamlet of Findlay was present from out-of-town.

The next meeting of the club will occur with Mrs. Elmer Parish of North Prospect street.

Mr. Dalton Dunham, of Marysville, was the complimented guest at a happy evening party at which Miss Corinne Myers of Mt. Vernon avenue, entertained last evening.

When the guests had assembled and been introduced, they were invited to engage in a millinery and necktie contest. Mr. James Peas, of Cincinnati, proved the most artistic milliner and received the boy's award while the gift for the most fetching necktie went to Miss Marion Gunder. There was a tempting spread. A pleasure of the walk in from the Myers home was all manner of merry snow games.

There were eighteen present.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Sullivan entertained with a theatre party at the Grand last night for "Justification," complimenting Mrs. Charles E. Bell, of Hillsboro. In the party were Mrs. John Spargur, Mrs. Lyman Beehner, Miss Cummins and the honor guest, of Hillsboro; Mrs. Harry Campbell, of Cincinnati, Miss Hane Miss Alice Hane and Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan.

The members of the Catholic Athletic club enjoyed a dance in Schwegers hall Thursday evening. There were thirty one couples in attendance. The affair proved highly successful in every particular.

The Philmathean club presented an excellent program at the home of Miss Katherine Petty, of Bellefontaine avenue, Thursday afternoon. Roll call responses were from the poems of Mrs. Browning. A sketch of the life of this English literary light was read by Miss Helen Houghton and a reading selected from "The Court Lady" was given by Janet Longdon. Miss Frances Frye favored with a musical number.

At the conclusion of the formal program there was an hour of social pleasures and a delicious luncheon. Miss Elizabeth Hopkins was a club guest.

Miss Ruth McKinnis, of East Center street, will receive the club at the next meeting.

Christmas decorations of holly and bells were used about the parlors of the Brady home on Mary street last evening, when Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brady entertained the Franklin club. A number of unique guessing games of a New Years note were introduced, the successful contestants being Mrs. W. A. DeLong and Mr. J. P. DeLong. Each received a pretty gift for their skill. A tempting collation was served at the close of the evening.

The H. F. Embroidery circle, of Richland township, assembled at the country home of Mrs. William Hensel, southeast of the city, Thursday afternoon.

The ladies brought their needlework, and after a pleasantly profitable season, were served with a dainty luncheon of Yuletide flavor. Mrs. George McDonald, who enjoyed Mrs. Hensel's hospitality as a club guest, was admitted to membership.

At the next meeting, Mrs. William Augustine, of south of the city, will entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Behner, residing six miles south of Marion, celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary Thursday night, by inviting a merry party of sleigh riders to their home.

The party, consisting of nine couples, reached the home about 9 o'clock. The evening was passed at music, games and various interesting diversions. An elegant luncheon was served by the hostess at 12 o'clock. A candle burning contest proved the interesting social feature of the evening. It resulted in Edward Schroeder and Mary Bland capturing first prizes, while Lowell Ross received the consolation prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Behner's guests were Misses Madge Bell, Goldie Ames, Daisie Bland, Bessie Wells, Vera Porter, Mary Bland, Jane McMaisters, Ruth Davis, Roselle O'Connell, Messrs. Lowell Ross, Mike Ross, Frank Seiter, Frank McDaniels, Edward Schroeder, William Hudson, Earnest Helwig, Clifford Bland and Earl Ulom.

The annual Tally Wag dance, was one of the interesting affairs socially, of last evening.

The club ball room, the scene of many a Yuletide festivity, was attractive with a canopy of ropes and branches of holly and the chandeliers, veiled in crimson and hidden in mistletoe clusters shed a soft radiance over the gay throng of dancers. Parker's orchestra, of Columbus played a selected program of dances and there was a delicious holiday luncheon and a refreshing punch.

The visitors in the city for the Yuletide pleasures and the college men and women home for their vacation added a note of jollity to the occasion.

Last evening marks the final annual dance in the hall made famous by the Wag brand of hospitality and was a fittingly planned to linger long in the memories of the members as the red letter affair of the club annals.

The members of the Young Matrons' Embroidery club entertained their husbands at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leamon, of Olney avenue, Thursday evening. Refreshments were served during the evening at the home of the mother of the hostess F. B. Main. A four course luncheon was served and place cards consisted of hand painted cards of 1910.
